HealthcarePromotions.co.uk

helping you raise awareness

“Health promotion is a key factor in disease prevention and health education and for this to be the most effective it has to involve as many professionals as possible. With doctors, nurses, teachers, government officers, pharmacists, industry and the general public working with us we can increase awareness of many health issues and concerns.

Our free and easy to use website opens up Health Promotion to a wide range of professionals by giving them access to reliable resources that cover a huge range of health topics. We hope that this will encourage everyone to raise health awareness.”
